There are hundreds of marine lights on the Australian coast, on islands off the coast, and in bays and inlets and rivers. Many of these lights are of low intensity, are provided primarily for local navigational purposes, and are not listed herein.

The list herein includes lights on headlands and islands provided primarily for coastwise navigation and with a visibility of 15 or more miles.

The list follows an anti-clockwise pattern commencing in the north-west of Western Australia, encircling Australia and ending in the Northern Territory. Tasmania and Bass Strait are included next to Victoria.

The following key applies when reading the list:

A = Personnel in attendance but signalling not normally undertaken.

C = Personnel in attendance. Day and night signalling facilities are available.

H = Historic interest only. Facility no longer exists.

N = A non-continuous watch is maintained. Signals will be answered if seen.

U = An unattended light; No resident personnel.

V = Visits to these lighthouses can usually be arranged with The Director of Lighthouses,
Department of Shipping and Transport, 497 Collins Street, Melbourne.
(Box 4317 G.P.O., Melbourne).

Z = Also has radio navigational beacon.
